MONUMENT FOR COL. CRAWFORD THROUGH $50,000 APPROPRIATION.

Bill introduced in House Saturday by Congressman Ernest F. Acheson Providing for Erection.

LOCATION AT CONNELLSVILLE

Bill Was Referred to the Committee on Library—Status Would Be Equated in Design and Life Size, How It Was Suggested.

Special to The Courier.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 13.—Representative Ernest F. Acheson has introduced a bill making an appropriation of $50,000 for the erection at Connellsville, Pa., of a statue in memory of Col. William Crawford. The bill provides that the statue shall be equestrian in design and of life-size, the costume that of a Colonel of the Continental Line, and that the money shall be expended under the direction of the Secretary of War. The bill was referred to the Committee on Library.

"The introduction of such a bill was suggested to me," said Representative Acheson, "by a pamphlet copy of a lecture on the life and public services of Colonel Crawford, delivered in Connellsville in 1892 by the late Dr. W. E. Haas, a lecturer and historian of national note. The address concluded with an appeal for such a memorial, and the appeal seemed to me to justify the action, however tardy, I am induced to H. P. Snyder, editor of the Connellsville Courier, for the pamphlet and other information, and have been in correspondence with him touching the matter. The Courier has from time to time urged the erection of a suitable Crawford memorial, and Editor Snyder assured me there will be no difficulty about getting a suitable site."

William Crawford was a native of Virginia and a boyhood and young manhood companion and friend of George Washington, who taught him the art of surveying and was subsequently the partner and employer in man-of-war transactions "West of the Mountains" that is to say in Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia. Crawford was a member of the ill-fated Braddock expedition as an ensign of the Virginia troops and he went with the Forbes expedition as a Captain. Eleven years later, in 1757, he located opposite Connellsville. One of his daughters married Zachariah Connel, who founded the town of Connellsville. Here Crawford became a leading citizen. He was a justice and was the first presiding justice of the Westmoreland County court. He was also official surveyor for the Ohio Company. In 1773, we find him entering Lord Dunmore, Governor of Virginia, who had journeyed through the wilderness to consult with him about the affairs of government.

In 1774, the Dunmore War enlisted his services quite actively. He commanded a number of scouting expeditions down the Ohio, built Fort Newcastle, afterwards Fort Henry, now Wheeling; defeated the frontier from bloddy force in a number of engagements, and performed many other signal services.

In the opening of the Revolution, Crawford embraced the patriotic cause with real and enthusiasm. He entered the Continental service as Lieutenant Colonel of the Fifth Virginia Regiment, but was soon called to the command of the Seventh, succeeding Colonel William Daingerfield. He was soon after asked to raise another regiment, and he resigned and returned home to perform this service. He recruited the Thirteenth Virginia, or West Augusta Regiment, in August, 1775, joined Washington before Philadelphia. The latter sent him West to take command under Major General Edward Hand. His transfer to the Western Department lost Crawford the command of the Thirteenth Virginia, and his place in the Continental line. Washington regretted this and tried to set it right to Crawford, but without avail.

After the close of the Revolution, Crawford was asked to lead the Sandusky expedition against the hostile Indians who threatened the border. He engaged the Indians of Upo Sandusky and was defeated, the enemy having been reinforced by the British Cavalry stationed at Detroit. He was captured and tortured to death at the stake in the most cruel and revolting manner. When the limit of human endurance was almost reached, he prayed for strength to bear his fate with fortitude and for mercy in the future that was denied to him in the present.

DRASTIC ACTION

Will Be Taken by Anti-Saloon League Against Liquor Interests in Washington County.

Special to The Courier.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Jan. 13.—The Anti-Saloon League has determined upon unusual steps in the fight in Washington county. R. H. Meloy, local attorney for the organization, announced Saturday that proceedings would be begun at once to declare every brewery in Washington county a nuisance. He says he is confident such a declaration will be made by the court for he asserts sufficient evidence will be produced to show that each of the three local breweries is operating as such.

According to the anti-saloon agents, they have the co-operation of many manufacturing concerns and coal operators.

"Coal companies," said Mr. Meloy on Saturday, "claim that their advertising, 'milling communities' with their frequently renders the miners, especially the foreigners, unfit for work, and at times the mines are almost forced to close down for lack of men." If the movement is successful in Washington, similar proceedings will be taken against other breweries in the county.

PECULIAR WRECK.

Train No. 1 Crashes Into Box Cars Swept on Track by Wind at Van Vorhis.

Train No. 1 on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad met with a peculiar accident early yesterday morning at Van Vorhis, a short distance on this side of Morgantown. It crashed into two box cars that had been swept over on the track from a siding near by the wind. Engineman Quinn Pore of Connellsville was hauling the train in Monongahela toward a hotel of the Bessemer coke works when the roof was blown off, and the 12 hours in the building were not injured. The roof on the Methodist Episcopal Church at Uppermiddleton, one of the oldest structures in the county, was blown off before morning, and houses blown from their foundations.

In the south end of the country much damage is reported. The roof of the stable at the Bessemer coke works was blown off, and the 12 hours in the building were not injured. The roof on the Methodist Episcopal Church at Uppermiddleton, one of the oldest structures in the county, was blown off before morning, and houses blown from their foundations.

A severe thunder storm yesterday afternoon did much damage. At Homestead works in Monongahela, a bolt of lightning struck a company house occupied by two Slavish families. The roof was carried off the building into a field some yards away. A little boy was the only living person in the house. The shock was so great that the child's face was blackened. A Sunday school was in session near by and the children were all more or less seriously shocked. A lightning bolt in the south end of the county much damage is reported. The roof of the stable at the Bessemer coke works was blown off, and the 12 hours in the building were not injured. The roof on the Methodist Episcopal Church at Uppermiddleton, one of the oldest structures in the county, was blown off before morning, and houses blown from their foundations.

The roof on the Methodist Episcopal Church at Uppermiddleton, one of the oldest structures in the county, was blown off before morning, and houses blown from their foundations.

A high tension wire on the West Penn blew down Saturday night, delaying traffic north of Scottdale for a few hours.

WEATHER SPOILED.

Climate Too Much for Ideal Winter and Storm Strikes Scottdale.

WAS MOST VIOLENT IN YEARS

Great Winds Made Uneasiness and Did Damage—Thunder Storm Came on Sunday Afternoon—Sleighbing Gets a Hard Jolt.

SCOTTDALE Jan 13—The beauty with which weather spoils in this climate was never more plainly shown than on Saturday, when there was a change from an ideal winter day to a muddy, sloppy one with tremendous winds, high waters, and to cap the meteorological performance a thunder storm on Sunday afternoon. The wind and rain storm of early Sunday morning was the heaviest in many years in this locality. Beginning with a thaw on Saturday evening when his daughter, Miss Clara, entertained about a dozen of her girlfriends in honor of her cousin, Miss Mary Grindle, of Altoona. A number of games had been arranged for the entertainment of the young ladies, and a very sumptuous luncheon was served. The home was nicely decorated in red and green, and the tables were covered with white cloths. Miss Kelly accompanied her cousin to the Altoona home yesterday and goes to stay at Mechanicsburg where she is attending school. The girls were former classmates of the young hostess in the Scottdale High School.

A Service Club is one of the first organized in the YMCA, having been formed among the members of the Junior Department of the home of the Secretary on Pitt's corner. The object of the club is to have a place to meet and work in the station aside from the usual office and to attend Bible Classes. A large number of the boys have joined the forming of the club, which is presided over by a little entertainment on the days of a music recital, while the pleasure of a post-concert picnic on a lawn without the noise of a dozen Apples in the pocket will add to the joys. On Saturday night the members of the station indulged in a skidding party followed the first service of the new organization.

A number of the girls of Little Miss Anna Mary Hause gave a surprise on Friday evening in the form of her return. Miss Anna Mary Hause is 1108 Washington Street. The usual amusements of childhood were indulged in and a frosty dinner was served.

Admittance has been issued by the Bureau of Navigation to the R.R. for the annual inspection of the ship "Lion" on January 29. It will call at the coal wharf at 10 A.M.

The number of the crew is 100.

Miss H. A. Weldon is spending a week with her son, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hunt, 1108 Washington Street.

Mrs. P. S. Lewis and children have returned to their home in Pittsburgh after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brown.

There will be a meeting for 1000 in the United Brethren church of Lyndon tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock and all the ladies in the town are invited to an adventure.

Pontoon members of the Kiowa tribe of Seneca of Scottdale spent Friday evening in making a social call on the tribe in Connellsville. The Scottdale men were wonderfully well pleased over the fine entertainment given them by the Connellsville people which ended with a sumptuous dinner.

Rev. Asaphinal Andis, pastor of the Atwater charge of the Methodist Episcopal church who has been suffering for several days from a severe attack of the grippe, is now improving in health.

Mrs. H. J. Rundt spent Sunday in Connellsville visiting her father, Hon. W. B. Hart.

John Kester, a prominent young farmer of Mr. West's Chapel, was one of those who enjoyed the skating early on Saturday and came to town.

W. S. Bryan, a former Scottdale boy now Principal of the Council schools, wrote to Principal Frank Reed of the Scottdale schools for a copy of the new ordinance in force here. A copy of the ordinance was mailed Mr. Bryan on Saturday. There is quite an agitation in Carnegie for its enforcement.

A very pleasant social event took place at the home of T. C. Kelly, 505 of Avenue on Friday evening when his daughter, Miss Clara, entertained about a dozen of her girlfriends in honor of her cousin, Miss Mary Grindle, of Altoona. A number of games had been arranged for the entertainment of the young ladies, and a very sumptuous luncheon was served.

Right now, when times are unsettled, the man with money to invest, be it small amount or large, should be cautious.

His common sense will tell him that COAL, which is now down to rock bottom prices, is absolutely safe and is the surest commodity to yield large future gains.

MANY PUPILS ARE ILL

Which Has Kept Attendance Down in Dunbar Twp. Schools.

REPORT FOR THE PAST MONTH

Principal R. K. Smith Says Oldest Teacher Does Not Remember When Mumps, Measles and Whooping Cough Were So Prevalent.

The fourth month of the Dunbar township schools closed Tuesday January 7. Supervising Principal R. K. Smith says in his report the attendance in some of the schools is not what is desired. We attribute this to the prevalence of mumps, measles and whooping cough in some localities. The oldest teacher cannot recall when these diseases have hampered the progress of the schools so much in point of attendance. Mr. Rowan's room at Neills and Miss Gia's of Adelia are excellent this month.

One teachers' meeting was held during the month. The Principals' department discussed literature and reading. Some excellent and practical tales were given. The teachers of the intermediate grade listened to a well prepared paper on "Geography" by Mrs. Marcella Henry of the Adelia schools after which methods of teaching and history and kindred subjects were discussed. A paper on "Book Work" by Miss Edmunds of the Tipton schools was read in the department of primary teachers. A general discussion on this important work consumed the time allotted to the primary department.

The summary of attendance is as follows: Enrollment 2,258 average daily attendance, 2,009, percentage of attendence 88.

HONORABLE RECORD.

Capt. Tucker Hunt's Faithful Service of 42 Years With the B. & O.

Forty-two years in the service of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad was rounded out Saturday, January 11, by Capt.
Tucker Hunt, the well known conductor on No. 3.

Capt. Hunt is one of the oldest and most trustworthy employees of the B.
& O. He began with that road January 11, 1866, in the capacity of water pumper from the well in the old B. & O. round house at Connellsville into the tank that furnished water for the engines. He also kept up the fire in the big stove in the winter time. His wages then were $15 per month.

Later Capt. Hunt was fireman and then became brakeman on Capt. John Gray's run, where he served 11 years.
He was then baggage master, express agent, freight conductor and also fired on an engine of which Rockwell Marietta of Connellsville was engineer.
He has held his present position as passenger conductor for many years and has filled it with ability and efficiency and is one of the most popular conductors on the road.

BUYS UNIONTOWN HOTEL.

Patrick Reagan Purchases the Lafayette Property for $200,000.

By a deal which closed on Saturday, Patrick Reagan, the well known contractor, purchased the Lafayette Hotel property in Uniontown. The consideration is approximately $200,
000. George G. Gans owned the property, and the Girard Hotel property in Brownsville goes in on the deal as part payment.

W. A. Carter, who has been conducting the Lafayette Hotel since May 1,
will take charge of the Brownsville
hostelry secured by Gans, while Geo.
Wilkinson, the proprietor of the new Girard, will transfer his management to the Lafayette.

New Form of Inspection.

Employers of the B. & O. are said to be somewhat up in the air over a circular issued by the B. & O. regarding a general inspection of timbers.
Under the new rules, it is claimed by the men, some of the watchmen will not meet the requirements, and as a result thereof they will be required to purchase new timbers.

Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Jan. 15, 16, 17, 18.

 THIS, the inauguration of our B. & O. Pay Day Sale, was the outcome of the complaints of hundreds of B. & O. employes as to why sales of any importance are never held on their pay days when they would have ready money to make their purchases, as most stores require cash payments for all reduced price goods. We promised them that some day we would give them the opportunity, therefore on Wednesday, January 15th, at 9 A. M. we forge to the front with our B. & O. Pay Day Sale.

This sale will be remembered by everyone in this vicinity as the greatest record-breaking, price-slashing sale ever known—and even our competitors will wonder at our daring in offering such desirable goods at such cut prices.

We will make this sale one of the milestones in the life of selling in Western Pennsylvania by putting prices down to a level which has never been reached by any one in the history of retail merchandising in this country.

An Aggregation of Women's Tailored Suits and Coats That Has Never Been Surpassed in Style or Low Pricing.

The Most Remarkable Sale of Women's Outer Apparel Ever Conducted in This Section.

REMARKABLE in pricing, Remarkable in scope but most of all Remarkable in the fact that every single garment that enters into this sale is of this season's designing. Not a garment in the whole collection but that meets most stringently the demands of fashion. It is a dry-goods truism "the greater the sales the bigger the number of small lots." This sale is an evidence to the truth of this saying. These little sale prices are due entirely to the wonderful popularity this department has enjoyed during the entire season.

WRIGHT-METZLER apparel for Women is conceded to be the most exclusive and stylish collection of Women's Garments in this section, and our immense buying power enables us at all times to offer this high class apparel at prices well under the ordinary. This buying advantage is forcefully reflected in these sale prices. We've divided our entire stock of Tailored Suits into three big groups and at the lowest prices ever placed on garments of this class anywhere. It is not a money-making sale but a sale brought about wholly by our strict policy of complete clearance each season.
